Y. W. C. A. Field Secretary Is Entertained at Luncheon

Mrs. J. C. Weeter, vice president of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors, who gave a toast on "Educational Work of the Association."

Addresses Are Made by Representative Workers of the Association.

THE board of directors of the Young Women's Christian association entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Utah yesterday in compliment to Miss Frances Cross of Denver, a field worker of the national Y. W. C. A., who is visiting the local association. The luncheon was served in the banquet room of the hotel on three tables extending down each side and across one end of the room. Potted tulips in white tipped with pink formed the decorations.

Mrs. J. C. Weeter Heard.

Mrs. J. C. Weeter, vice president of the board of directors, spoke on "The Educational Work of the Association." She said that since efficiency was the slogan of the age, the Young Women's Christian association was trying to train young women along industrial and literary lines, so they might become efficient in whatever calling they adopted. To put education within the reach of the working girls, night classes were adopted as a feature of association work.

Miss Julia Burnard, general secretary of the local association, spoke of "The Recreation Features of the Y. W. C. A." Miss Burnard said that relaxation and amusement were deemed necessary, as well as work, and to give the girls the benefit of this different club of a social and athletic nature had been formed for the purpose of recreation. Miss Burnard told of the clubs under the direction of the local association and gave the purpose of each. The Tennis club, she said, was especially active just now preparing for the summer season, and she spoke of the plans being made for a summer cottage in Emigration canyon, where the girls can spend their vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. Solon Spira left yesterday for San Francisco and will tour California in their automobile.

The Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's church will have a sale of home-made cake and candy Saturday at Walker's store, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swain of Richmond, Ind., who spent several days in the city, have continued their trip west. They will visit coast cities and return home by way of Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Swain are relatives of Mrs. F. B. Roberts, president of the local association.

Miss Edna Shepard will leave today for a ten days' visit to Dr. and Mrs. Sumner Gleason at Kayville.

Mrs. Fred C. Dorn will entertain at luncheon today, in honor of Mrs. Frank D. Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrill N. Farr have gone to Holladay, to remain for the summer in their suburban home there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Edmonds will be at home after April 6, at 319 M street.

Hugh Thomas has returned from a business trip to the coast.

Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Schulte are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son at the Judge-Mercy hospital yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgarten have just returned from a pleasure trip to Honolulu and the Pacific coast.

Mrs. Weeter said that since efficiency was the slogan of the age, the Young Women's Christian association was trying to train young women along industrial and literary lines, so they might become efficient in whatever calling they adopted. To put education within the reach of the working girls, night classes were adopted as a feature of association work.

Mrs. L. M. Bailey Speaks.

Mrs. L. M. Bailey spoke on "Y. W. C. A. Work as a Labor of Love." Mrs. Bailey said that she considered the most effective influence that could be used with girls was to surround them with "affection that could not be purchased with dollars and cents," and this phase of the Y. W. C. A. work could not be measured. Mrs. Bailey spoke of the cafeteria as one of the most important branches of the association activities as a means of contributing to the physical well-being of working girls, and said that while it had not been a paying venture, that she regarded it an essential feature of carrying out the association aims.

Mrs. H. W. Rehard spoke on "The Spiritual Side of the Association Influence." Mrs. Rehard said that in this age of temptation for young women in the way of unwholesome amusement, unmodest dress and things not inclined to elevate, that a strong counteracting force in the way of character building was needed. This could only be accomplished by Christian methods and the association recognized its religious work as its real stronghold on the girls under its direction. She said that it should be Christianity of the practical type that could go into the every-day life of the girl, to brighten her way, as the golden poppies of California grew by the wayside to cheer the passer-by.

Miss Cross spoke last on "The Broad Scope of Association Work," telling what was being accomplished in a national and world movement along Y. W. C. A. lines. She spoke of the four-fold aim of the association in endeavoring to help girls have good bodies, good minds, good times and good characters. She said that it was a church that worked seven days a week accomplishing the institutional work of the church. It reached girls in business, girls in homes, girls in the industrial world, immigrant girls and country girls. Immigrant girls were trained in dress, language and customs, so that they might get on in a strange land and become good American citizens. The country girl was taught contentment in social and educational work in her small community and kept from the temptations of city life. The business girl and the girl in the industrial world were given a place to live for a reasonable sum and surrounded with good influences and wholesome amusement for their recreation time. The girls in homes were trained to become leaders and helpers for the girls who had to go out into the world.

Work in Foreign Fields.

Miss Cross spoke of the extension of the work to China, Japan, India, South America and Africa, and gave briefly her reasons for believing in the Y. W.

C. A. movement. First, because it was co-operative, second, because it was voluntary, third, because it was democratic, fourth, because it was preventive, rather than rescue work, and lastly, because its ultimate purpose was the up-building of Christian character.

A reception will be given this evening at the Y. W. C. A. boarding home, 303 Broadway, to which a number of invitations have been issued to meet Miss Cross and the local secretaries of the association. Next week Miss Cross will direct local workers in a boost movement for the Salt Lake Y. W. C. A.

Supervisor on Tour.

J. E. Bruns, supervisor of the Wasatch national forest, left yesterday for Mill creek and Black's fork, in the north part of the reserve, to supervise cutting of timber. The Standard Timber company recently made a heavy purchase of timber in that section and has its crews cutting now, and a number of government men are also marking and cutting.

Daughters to Meet.

A meeting of the Daughters of the Handcart Pioneers has been called in connection with the assembly of the Handcart Veterans for their reunion in the fourteenth ward assembly hall, immediately after the Saturday afternoon session of conference.

Applies for Position.

S. F. Penton filed an application with the city recorder yesterday for the position of city purchasing agent, from which Warren C. Bogue has resigned. Mr. Penton says that he is an expert at buying supplies and has had much experience.

Sues for Divorce.

Della Hay filed suit in the district court yesterday for divorce from Robert J. Hay, whom she charges with non-support.

The Children's Lunch Basket-will be brim full of health builders if the foods it carries are made with

Cottolene

Pastries, doughnuts and all foods are far more digestible when made with Cottolene. Physicians and expert dieticians have passed the verdict of science in favor of this clean, food-bettering product. Cottolene is pure and wholesome and should be used in all cookery.

The children will adore the cook who makes this:

COTTOLENE FAIRY GINGERBREAD

2-3 cup Cottolene; 2 1-2 cups sugar; 1-2 cup sweet milk; 3 eggs; 1 teaspoon soda; 1 tablespoon ginger; 7 cups flour (or enough to mix as stiff as can be rolled).

Cream Cottolene and sugar, add beaten eggs, soda dissolved in sweet milk and ginger. Add flour (as much as can be stirred in). Roll to about one-eighth inch thickness, in a sheet to cover bottom of a large, low baking-pan, score with fancy rolling-pin or springerle stamps, sprinkle with sugar and bake to a very delicate brown. Cut apart and remove quickly by passing knife underneath and stand on edge in a pan to cool.

Order a pail of Cottolene and just try these crisp wafers. Use Cottolene in all cooking, always using one-third less than you would of butter or lard, because Cottolene really goes farther. Also send us for the valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS. Do it NOW.
